

GPO: Vérouiller le pc après X minutes

The screenshot shows the Windows Group Policy Management Editor. The left pane displays a tree structure of Group Policies under 'Stratégie'. In the center pane, a specific policy named 'Ouverture de session interactive : limite d'inactivité de l'ordinateur' is selected. A right-click context menu is open over this item, with the option 'Propriétés...' highlighted. A detailed properties dialog box is displayed in the foreground, titled 'Paramètre de stratégie : Ouverture de session interactive : limite d'inactivité de l'ordinateur'. It contains several configuration options, with the most prominent being a dropdown menu set to 'Définir ce paramètre de stratégie'. Below this dropdown, there is a field labeled 'L'ordinateur doit être verrouillé après' with a value of '600' and a unit selector set to 'secondes'. At the bottom of the dialog box are three buttons: 'OK', 'Annuler', and 'Appliquer'.
